Aeronautics

WILL ASK FOR $500,000

Plans Will Include a Permanent Dirigible
Station

Balloon Corps Will be Branch of Equipment of the Mobile Army.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Encouraged by the tremendous wave of popular interest in aeronautics, stirred up by the successful demonstration of the Wright aeroplane and the Baldwin dirigible balloon, the signal corps will ask congress at the coming session for an appropriation of $500,000 sufficient to make aeronautics a permanent feature in the equipment of the army.

The plans will probably include a permanent dirigible station somewhere along the Atlantic coast in connection with the coast artillery service; the perfection of the balloon plant at Fort Omaha, and practical application of the aeroplane to signal service work and the establishment of a dirigible or spherical balloon corps as a branch of the equipment of the mobile army. It is the opinion of Gen. Allen, chief signal officer, and other officers of the corps, that the Wright brothers have demonstrated that the aeroplane can be made of great value in the work of the mobile army.

The main feature of the present year's plans will be the establishment of the dirigible balloon station.

"Booster Parson" Creates Sensation
in Church Circles—Apple Festival
To Be Held in Spokane, Wash.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 13.—Judge J. D. Hinkle of the criminal department of the Spokane county superior court, has received a lengthy letter from J. Higgs of Pine, Wash., who claims to be in possession of a method by which all the mental impressions of an individual charged with crime can be passed in review and seen as plainly as motion pictures. Higgs says he was at one time connected with a notorious gang of river pirates, who carry this invention in their craft, adding that for the benefit of humanity he is willing to come to Spokane and have the method tested by officials of the law. He indicates in the letter that the invention is worked by electricity while the suspect is in a cell. Higgs says also that several men in Spokane are members of the river gang. The officers here do not take much stock in Higgs' letter, but Judge Hinkle says the man will be invited to make a test of his apparatus. As the name of J. B. Higgs is not known at Pine City, it is believed to be an assumed one.

Rev. Dr. William J. Hindley, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, known throughout the Pacific Northwest as the booster parson of the Spokane country, created no little sensation in church and lay circles when he declared from an orthodox pulpit that Jesus of Nazareth was no greater than his disciples or any other man who is a Christian in the highest sense of that term. He does not question that the statement that the Nazarene was the child of Mary and Joseph and that his true greatness came from above; "but," he added, "to my mind the supernatural conception of Jesus robs his life of its supreme meaning to the conscience of the twentieth century: The identification of Jesus with humanity." The theory expounded by Dr. Hindley is being severely criticised among orthodox ministers in Spokane, one of them, Rev. Dr. Edwin L. House, pas-

EMPEROR KUANG HSU OF CHINA WHO PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

THE EMPEROR OF CHINA

Washington, Nov. 13.—A cablegram from China to the state department received this morning, announced the death of the Emperor of China. No details were given. The Emperor has been ill some time and his death has been momentarily expected.

Kuang Hsu, Emperor of China was 37 years old and ascended the throne in 1875, when but a mere child. Ten years ago his health failed and he for of First Congregational church, saying that Dr. Hindley did not present the Congregational view of doctrine in his theory, adding: "I hold to Jesus as my savior, for he tells me he has authority to forgive sins, to judge the quick and the dead and to bestow eternal life."

Prof. L. H. Bailey of Ithaca, N. Y., chairman of President Roosevelt's committee to report on a plan to make country life more attractive and keep on the farms thousands of young men who annually flock to the cities, has advised H. J. Neely, secretary and manager of the National Apple Show, that he and Henry Wallace of Iowa, Kenyon L. Butterfield of Massachusetts, Walter Page of New York, and Gifford Pinchot, head of the United States forestry service, will be in Spokane December 5, and will pass one day in each of the cities of the Northwest. As orchardists and farmers from all parts of the world will be in Spokane December 7 to 12 to attend the apple festival, it is likely that the visit of this committee will be postponed to that week to give its members an opportunity to get the views of men from many districts.

TESTIMONY IN LAMPHERE TRIAL

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 13.—Taking the testimony in the case of Ray Lamphere, charged with the Guinness murder, began today. Both sides will have about 70 witnesses and the trial will consume two weeks. Coroner Mack, who took charge of the exhumed bones, was the first witness.

ESCAPES TO THE CLOUDS.

Toledo, Nov. 13.—Frank Butler, an aeronaut, wanted by the local police authorities, was last seen soaring through the clouds in a balloon from a little Michigan town.

When Judge Morris sentenced a man it developed that local detectives arrived just too late to catch Butler, an alleged accomplice, at a nearby town in Michigan. Just as the Toledo sleuths were entering the fair grounds to place their man under arrest, the balloon shot upward and was soon lost to sight and so far as the detectives know, has not yet descended.

TWO KILLED IN COLLISION

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—William Snape, fireman, and Charles Wolf, brakeman, were killed, and Fireman John Williams probably fatally injured when a freight train and switch engine on the Wabash collided here today.

The dowager empress is herself critically ill. Prince Chun, brother of the emperor, was made regent of the empire and his son, Pu Wei, heir presumptive, according to two imperial edicts issued after the announcement of the death of the emperor.

MARRIED 40 YEARS.
Marysville, Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kirby, Sr., celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary yesterday, the occasion also being the celebration of the second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones. A large number of friends gathered at the Kirby home. Mr. Kirby is one of the leading dry goods merchants of Marysville.

SEN. PLATT AND MR. ROOT, WHO MAY SUCCEED HIM.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Friends of Elihu Root declare he can succeed Thomas C. Platt in the United States Senate if he will only say the word.

His decision in the matter, those closest to him assert, hinges on the attitude of President Roosevelt. The legislature meets in January, but it is likely that the public will be apprised of Senator Platt's probable successor long before that time.

Death List Will Run Over 300
and Whole Town is in Mourning.

Hamm, West Phalia, Nov. 13.—In desperate hope that some of the 300 or more entombed miners in the Rad-bod mine might have survived the explosion and flames, grief crazed relatives of the victims today made a desperate effort to prevent engineers from flooding the mine.

They fought those in charge of the work like madmen. A cordon of troops was finally called out and soldiers stationed themselves around the mouth of the pit in which more than 300 lives had been sacrificed. The mine as now being flooded.

Engineers say that there is absolutely no doubt that all those in the mine are dead. The total death list will run well over 300. The whole town is in mourning.

WOMAN TEACHER TAKES POISON

Yale, Mich., Nov. 13.—The body of Miss Ethel Spitzer, teacher in the Yale public schools, and graduate of the Michigan State Normal school, was found in a field near town today. A bottle which had contained poison, was found in the girl's hand. All indications point to suicide, but no known motive exists. Miss Spitzer's home is in Grafton, Ohio.

POLICE

Camped All Night at Shut-off Gates of East Ohio Gas Company Fearing Officials Would Shut Off Fuel.

Canton, Nov. 13.—Fearing that the East Ohio Gas company would turn off the gas in Canton before morning, Mayor A. R. Turnbull made a midnight ride to the home of Judge H. W. Whatter of common pleas court, and secured a temporary injunction. The action was brought about by the city council's granting a few hours previously a 22-cent gas rate to the East Ohio Gas company, which had threatened to leave the Canton field if the 30-cent rate, which has stood for ten years, was lowered. Armed with the restraining papers, police with lunch baskets and blankets were sent to the shut-off gates of the gas company and there they camped until given permission to leave. Judge Harter set next Monday as the time for the gas company to make answer.

OFFERED PAY TO DETECTIVE TO KILL MOTHER.

Will be Examined by Alienist and if Found Sane Will be Indicted for Crime.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Puzzled by the strange case of Miss May Otis, held by the police because she is alleged to have offered to pay a detective $2,500 to kill her mother, the district attorney and representatives of the police department are consulting in an effort to decide what formal charge shall be brought against the woman. Today Miss Otis was taken into the office of Chief of Detectives O'Brien. O'Brien declared that if the woman gave any indication of an unbalanced mind, he would have her examined by an alienist. If, on the contrary, she gave no such indication, the captain decided to place formal charge of "inciting to crime" against her.

START LOCAL OPTION PETITIONS
Maretta, Nov. 13.—Petitions for a county option election under the Rose law were started in Washington county last evening. This is the home county of Senator Rose and considerable importance attaches to the outcome. Rose failed to carry this county at the last election by more than 800 and was defeated in the district.

COMMISSION

On Country Life Appointed by President Will Begin Labors in the West Next Week.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The commission of country life appointed by President Roosevelt will leave Washington next week to visit several educational centers of the west to obtain information on conditions on western country life. It is proposed to hold hearings, principally at agricultural colleges. The commission invites attendance of representative farmers, teachers, business men, physicians and others who live in the open country.

LOCAL OPTION PETITION FILED THURSDAY EVE

Contains 5,755 Names—Commissioners Set Monday, Dec. 7, as Special Election Day.

The long expected has happened. The local option petition asking that an election be held in Licking county to decide whether intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited or not, has been filed. For the past two or three days it had been expected that the petition would be filed, but its filing was postponed until Thursday evening, when shortly after 4 o'clock J. H. Miller, president of the Local Option League, and several other gentlemen filed it with the county commissioners, who, acting upon the suggestion of the committee in charge of the petition, fixed Monday, December 7, as the day on which the election is to be held. The petition, which is very voluminous, being over five inches in thickness, contains 5,755 names, or about 400 more than necessary to secure an election. The petition was filed with County Clerk Hurrey by the Commissioners at 4.45 o'clock, where it will be held for inspection. At the election held Tuesday, November 3, the total vote in Newark was about 6,550 and the total vote in Licking county was 15,111.

OIL CASE

Will be Taken to the Supreme Court

CONFERENCE IS HELD

And Attorneys Will Apply
for a Writ of Certiorari

Necessary Paper Will be Prepared Without Delay and Will be Filed Nov. 30.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Following the recent action of the circuit court of appeals in Chicago, in refusing the United States government a rehearing of the Standard Oil case, made famous by its $29,000,000 fine, the department of justice officials have decided to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States.

The decision was reached after an all day conference between Attorney General Bonaparte and government attorneys, who have been engaged in the case. It was found that a number of changes had been made in the opinion of the court of appeals originally that court had filed a separate concurring opinion, which differed materially in its reasoning from the of Judge Grosscup.

Application will be made in the supreme court for a writ of certiorari to bring up and review the action of the circuit court of appeals. When that tribunal reconvenes Monday, Nov. 30, the following statement was issued late last night by the department, immediately following the adjourning of the final conference, which began at 9 o'clock:

"A prolonged conference was held yesterday at the department of justice with respect to the action of the circuit court of appeals in Chicago in refusing a rehearing of the Standard Oil case. At different times during the day Attorney General Bonaparte was in consultation with Solicitor General Hoyt, United States Attorney Sims of Chicago, and his assistant, J. H. Wilkerson, and F. B. Kellogg, special counsel in the civil suits against the Standard Oil company.

"It was found that a considerable number of changes had been made in the opinion of the court of appeals originally rendered and that Judge Baker of that court had filed a separate concurring opinion, which differed materially in its reasoning from that of Judge Grosscup. After a careful consideration of all phases of the situation, it was determined that an application should be made to the supreme court of the United States, when it reconvenes on Monday, Nov. 30, for a writ of certiorari to bring up and review the action of the circuit court of appeals. The necessary papers for this purpose will be prepared without delay."

GAME WARDEN BUSY.

Wilmington, Nov. 13.—Geo. Cooper, game warden for Clinton county, caused the arrest of eight young men, charged with violating the game laws. Two, T. F. Brandenburg and Edward Lane, for having a seine and seining, were each fined $25 and costs. The others were dismissed. Two other offenders, for having rabbits in their possession out of season, were fined the same amount.

"DANDER"

They Should Pay Bills.

Millersburg, Nov. 13.—The officials of Holmes and Coshocton counties have again made an effort to adjust the costs in the Dickerson murder case, which was tried here last January on a change of venue from Coshocton county, and the prosecutor thinks that about $1,000 of the costs should be paid by Holmes county. This position has aroused the taxpayers of Holmes county to a high pitch and they want to know why they must foot cost bills for Coshocton county's murder cases.

SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE.

All Over America, the News of the Marvelous Dandruff Cures of Parisian Sage Has Spread.

A few years ago there was introduced into America a cure of dandruff, falling hair and all scalp diseases.

This hair renewer did not attract much attention for some months, until a progressive business man, hearing of several almost magical cures, decided to tell the American people of its mighty power to destroy the deadly dandruff germ.

And today, without any sensational or untruthful advertising, Parisian Sage is used extensively in almost every town in America. And what has produced this great demand? Simply this: Parisian Sage does just what we are telling the readers of the Advocate it will do.

We claim, and we back our claim with T. J. Evans' money back guarantee, that Parisian Sage is the most invigorating and rejuvenating hair tonic. It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp; it makes the hair grow strong and vigorous, yet soft and lustrous. It is the only hair dressing that reaches the root bulb of the hair and destroys the dandruff germ.

And to the women who are reading this simple statement of fact, we want to say that Parisian Sage works wonders with women's hair. It will turn dull, harsh and faded hair into beautiful, lustrous hair in a few days, and is the most pleasant and satisfying hair dressing any woman ever used.

"My hair was falling out rapidly when I heard of your guaranteed hair restorer. The first application removed the itching, my hair stopped falling out, and is soft, glossy and pliable."—Carrie Williams, 844 Clinton Ave. S., Rochester, N. Y.

Evans' Drug Store sells Parisian Sage for 50 cents a large bottle, or it can be obtained direct from the makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., all charges prepaid.

FOOTBALL SUNDAY.

The "P. D. Q.'s" and a team composed of players of the South and East End, known as "Newark All-Stars," and composed of some of the best players in this city, such as Pieri, Lake and Winters, will have a terrific battle when they come together Sunday afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. field. This latter team has been gotten together to wrest the 150 pound championship from the P. D. Q.'s. The P. D. Q.'s have made a great record, having had but 17 points scored against them in the last three years, having met and defeated the best in the city. A great crowd is expected to witness this championship game. The P. D. Q.'s will have their regular line-up.

WOMAN

Diplomacy to Promote Social Success—Putting Oneself In a Poor Light—Coming Home to Eclipse Her Mother.

"To be successful socially one must conceal one's feelings," Mrs. Popular uttered this dictum in the voice of one who knows.

"But that is hypocrisy," retorted little Mrs. Frankly.

"Call it diplomacy," was the answer, "and that's the way to be popular."

"Well, if people don't like me the way I am they needn't like me at all. I hate deceit."

"If the way you are happens to be their way, they will like you, but if it isn't you are going to be left all by yourself, and I thought you told me you were very lonely."

"Well, tell me the secret of it."

"In the first place, my dear—I hope you won't be offended—you have a haughty manner. You don't unbend. You are not what the French call gracious."

"To be popular one must be, as I have said, diplomatic. One must have a smile for all, even those one doesn't care for."

"The other day you were at a reception, and, I'm sorry to say, you made two enemies right away."

"Why, I didn't notice!"

"No, of course you didn't. You were perfectly unconscious. Do you remember a group of three women you were introduced to? Right away you began to talk to the one who took your fancy, leaving the other two out in the cold. In a minute or two they moved away, but those few minutes finished you with them, if I may use a slang expression. You will never be invited to their houses, and they receive some of the best people in town. Wasn't it worth while to have been a little diplomatic?"

"Yes, I suppose so, but I did so enjoy talking with Mrs. Blank."

"That may be, but you could have met her some other time when there was no danger of making enemies by pronounced attention to her. She herself would doubtless have thought more of you if you had not snubbed the other two women, who, by the way, are intimate friends of hers. You see, my dear, one can't afford to be what is called "natural" if one moves in good society."

TALKED TO THE ONE SHE FANCED.

And little Mrs. Frankly took the lesson to heart.

Old, but True.

There is no truer axiom than "Familiarity breeds contempt."

Many a woman has wondered why her friends did not treat her with more respect. The secret lay within her own self.

She was always confiding her personal troubles and petty humiliations. She told all about her husband's business and how he didn't understand her and was cross to her. In other words, she was posing all the time in a mean, undulating light. Then she was surprised that her friends did not look up to her and treat her with the same distinguished consideration they gave other women.

All affection, whether of friendship or of love, should be founded on respect to be worth while, and how can people respect us if we show ourselves in our worst light?

A Domestic Tragedy.

There is a domestic tragedy which takes place in many households when the daughter comes home from finishing school or college, and that is the displacement of the mother.

Mother in many cases is positively relegated to the background. Her ideas, her ways of housekeeping, even her friends are deemed old-fashioned.

The daughter has learned all the new fads in school or at college—she fairly takes possession of the house and proceeds to renovate it. She receives instead of mother, she monopolizes the conversation, she pours the tea, and she gives the orders to the servants.

Mother does not come into her own again until this very up to date young person is married and has gone from the house for good.

MYSTERY

Of Attack on Mrs. Phipps May Never Be Solved as Assailant Is Said To Be Dying.

Denver, Nov. 13.—Death will probably write into the list of the unsolved mystery of Mrs. Allen P. Read's attempt on the life of Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps last Monday.

Weakened by disease and drugs she took to death her pain the woman may die at any moment, taking with her the secret of her attack. Mrs. Read is a wreck from her three years illness from tuberculosis of liver. Her physicians declared today that she may die at any hour. Police confess their confusion and seem unable to solve the mystery of the motive of the attempt.

TO SUCCEED BISHOP HORSTMANN. Cincinnati, Nov. 13.—Rev. Thos. S. Byrns of Nashville, Tenn., former pastor of St. Peter's cathedral of Cincinnati, is reported to have been selected as the successor to Bishop Horstmann of Cleveland. He was made bishop of Nashville in 1894.

THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT. Salem, O., Nov. 13.—The plant of the Silver Manufacturing company was gutted by fire early today with $100,000 loss. Two hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This

The number of diseases peculiar to woman is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of the catarrhal germs in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to cure Catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh is caused by a germ. That germ is carried by the blood to the innermost part of the system until the mucous membrane is broken, irritation and inflammation produced, and a flow of mucus results, and you can probably realize how silly it is to attempt to cure an ailment unless you take a medicine that follows the same course as the germ or parasite.

Rezal Moon-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made his specialty Catarrh, and with this medicine he averaged 98 per cent of cures where it was employed. No other remedy is so properly designed for the ailments of women. It will purify and enrich the blood, stop mucus discharge, destroy all germ matter, remove all impurities from the system, soothe, heal and strengthen the mucous tissues, and bring about a good state of health and strength.

We want you to try Rezal Moon-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not satisfied, or for any reason you wish to stop, simply tell us and we will hand you your money. Rezal Moon-Tone is in two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Half Doz. Store, 10 North 3d St., Salem, O.

SONATA RECITAL HUGELY ENJOYED AT GRANVILLE

Large Number Present from This City—Fortnightly Club Hand-
somerly Entertained.

Granville, Nov. 15.—One of the most thoroughly enjoyable musical events of the college season was the Sonata
Recital given in Recital Hall on Thursday night by Miss Dorothy Kibler, pianist, and Mr. Reginald Hidden, vocalist. There was a large attendance both from Granville and Newark. The sonatas chosen for this occasion were Beethoven's Sonata in (A) Kreutzer
Op. 47, and the Sonata in (F), Op. 8, by Grieg. The melody, bass and harmony of Greg's compositions is wonderfully weird and attractive. As Grieg was our Norwegian composer and one of the greatest of our composers. Mr. Hidden and Miss Kibler certainly brought artistic results of the highest order from this Sonata of Grieg's, and their interpretation of it was most excellent. The Sonata in (A) by Beethoven, was played with all deference to the composition and its creator—to Beethoven, our most classic and majestic composer. It was one of the most highly classic recitals ever given in the Recital Hall and Miss Kibler and Mr. Hidden are to be commended for their excellent rendition of these sonatas.

Miss Amelia Owen most delightfully entertained the members of the Fortnightly club at her home on the Granville road this week. There were nineteen ladies present and a most interesting program was carried out.
Among the interesting papers read was one by Miss Graham on "William the Silent," that proved exceedingly interesting program was carried out.

The farmers of Granville township are thinking of organizing an anti-burning association. They advance various reasons for forming such an organization. The safety of their stock from reckless and careless hunters, is pointing the greatest consideration.
And the burning down of fences also
is something to do with the matter.
Many of the farmers are beginning to look upon the quail as a benefaction and they do not desire them to be killed off. The farmers claim to be taking such action because of the desire to protect themselves and the property.

What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred at the home of 17 Hurling place of Dr. Conner, under Mr. Carl Ashton, the engineer.
The plan was engaged to work in the boiler room when there was an explosion of gas from one of the boilers.
Mr. Ashton was badly burned about the head and face, but it is not thought that his injuries are serious.
Although he is suffering from slight internal pains caused by the fumes he inhaled at the time.

The members of the Denison Athletic Association and in fact all the students of Denison are interested to a degree never before manifested, in the cross country run to take place Saturday afternoon between a picked team of Denison athletes and a team from Ohio State. The start will be made from the Conservatory corner and the run will be a distance of six miles. Members of the Athletic Association are selling ten cent tags to all the boys encouraging the event.

After a short but pleasant with relatives and friends in Granville, Mr.
and Mrs. M. N. Brown have returned to their home in Hamilton, O.

Mrs. E. S. Shephardson, after a month's visit in Granville, has returned to Boston, Mass.

Theo. G. Baker, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Marvin Ingham, has sold the sixty acre farm on Loudon street to John Lloyd of Alexandria, for $50 per acre.

Miss Alice Thompson of Bucyrus, is visiting in the village for a short time.

Rev. C. A. Hunter of Plain City will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday, both morning and evening.

Center Star Lodge, F. & A. M., of this place elected the following officers at their regular meeting held on Thursday evening: W. M. C. B. Slack;
S. W. Boaz Jones; J. W. Alfred Lee;
treasurer, L. A. Ans; secretary, T.
G. Baker; S. D. A. Odebrecht; J. D.
Joseph Rhoades; Tyler, John DeBow.
Mrs. L. H. Cammack of Huntington,
W. Va., is visiting her father, Mr. H.
LaFerre at his home on Main street.

The Past Master's degree will be conferred on three Masters elect of Masonic bodies of this vicinity on Tuesday evening, November 17, in the lodge room of Center Star.

SKIN DISEASES DEMAND PROMPT ATTENTION

Skin diseases, such as eczema, to-ter, salt rheum, psoriasis, etc., seem to be getting more and more common. Though not often dangerous, they are always very annoying and often cause much mental and physical suffering. Quite recently a great advance has been made in their scientific treatment, and Dr. Currier reports in the Doctor's Guide that the well-known drug, citrox, has proved in his hands a specific for nearly all forms of skin affections. His method of using the drug is as follows: "Dissolve a teaspoonful of pure powdered citrox in two table-spoons
of hot water and bathe the discomfort with this warm lotion for 20 minutes at a time twice a day. The solution must be made fresh each time and used warm. Be careful to get the pure drug, in sealed packages as put up by the original citrox works." A remarkable fact about this new use for a well-known drug is that it seems to act equally well in practically every form of skin disease, stopping the itching immediately and drying up the eruption in a few days. Dr. Currier's document has attracted considerable attention among scientific men.

United States geological survey, through its technologic branch, has taken up a

Champaign, Ill., as ceramic chemist.
Government engineers, started at the enormous losses from fire in the United States and the consequent destruction of valuable natural resources, have been endeavoring for some time to learn more about the fire resisting qualities of structural materials, not only to stop the present waste, but also to preserve, if possible, the waning timber supply. It was for this reason that the government a few years ago took up a scientific study of concrete, which is now being used extensively in government construction work.

Clay products, such as hollow tile,
fireproofing, terra cotta, enameled
brick and glazed tile, play an important part in modern fireproof buildings,
and these are to be tested for the different construction purposes of the government. This will insure the highest quality of ware obtainable in the industry for the government buildings.
A series of tests will also be conducted with bricks in order that a standard may be arrived at for the use of the engineers in the future.

Mr. Bleininger, the clay expert, is one of the leading authorities in his line in the United States. In outlining his work he said: "The coming tests,
although conducted to meet the needs of the government, will be of great value to the engineering profession and the public, for the results will be obtainable by any one sufficiently interested to ask for them."

"An important phase of the work will be the determining of a standard for a good brick. We shall study the relation between the crushing strength
of commercial bricks and their porosity,
the object being the establishing of a technical definition for a good building brick, thus enabling engineers
and builders to reject poor materials and encouraging the manufacturers of well made and burnt bricks. At the present time we do not know the difference between a good and a bad brick. Another feature of the work will consist in evolving standard tests
of clays for the purpose of determining the use to which they are best suited,
thus assisting in the development of the clay resources of the country and avoiding the great money losses caused by ill advised investments in low grade clay properties. An examination of many failures of new clay enterprises may frequently be traced back to a mistake made in the selection of the clay deposit."

"Strange as it may seem, we do not fully understand such familiar properties as the plasticity of clay. Neither is the nature of the various grades of clay clearly understood. Another phase of the work deals with the general manufacturing problem. I might mention the important question of 'whitewash' appearing on brick walls, a difficulty causing serious annoyance and loss to manufacturers and users of bricks by marring the beauty of many structures."

"The clay industry is one of the most important in the country. Last year the value of such products amounted to $149,697,000, a gain of 14 per cent over the previous year. We are slowly realizing that it is not necessary to import clay or clay products from Europe. An American manufacturer has demonstrated that he can make as fine china and porcelain as any one in the world. We import the finer grades of clay, but this is unnecessary. We have the silicates here. The best cut glass in the world is made in the United States."

Professor Newcombe on Aviation.
Professor Simon Newcomb, astronomer, has interesting views with respect to the problems of aviation. He rules out the possible use of a dirigible balloon for any more serious military purpose than reconnaissance. With respect to the aeroplane, such as is employed by the Wright brothers, he has little faith in its solving the problem of air flight. He shows that the bearing on air machine cannot be stopped in midair for repairs, and "no engine yet built by human skill, much less the delicate motors necessary in the fier, can be guaranteed against accident." The conclusion of this scientist is that aerial navigation must ever remain "uncertain, dangerous, expensive and inefficient."

Cutting of the Cullinan Diamond.
The cutting of the Cullinan diamond,
which cost $50,000, is now complete,
says a cable dispatch from Amsterdam. The stone has been divided into seven parts, exclusive of the big one,
which will go by the name of Cullinan.
Six of these small stones are being made into a necklace, with the seventh, which is somewhat larger, as a pendant, and will be presented by the king to Queen Alexandra.

A MISSION PILLOW.

Christmas Gift Design Which Carries Out Stained Glass Pattern.

So popular has become the mission style of furniture that now there is a real demand at Christmas time for sofa pillows in the same type of design.

Herewith is given a very effective design in this style that is sure to meet

MATERIALS REQUIRED.

Three-quarter yard of brown art ticking.
Two skeins of yellow embroidery silk.
Two skeins of red embroidery silk.
Two skeins of blue embroidery silk.
Two skeins of green embroidery silk.
Two yards of cord.

A MISSION PILLOW.

the hearty approval of embroiderers
who desire an odd mission cushion.
It is known as the stained glass design and is worked out in the reds,
blues, yellows and greens.

Two yellow petals, two blue petals
and one red petal are used in the em-broidering of the flower.

The buds are worked in red, with green section in the center worked in green at the top and bottom of the pillow, and in red with the cross sections in blue at the sides. The stems and dots are worked in red.

The design is padded and then worked in the satin stitch. If desired, it may be worked in outline stitch only,
but will not be nearly so effective.

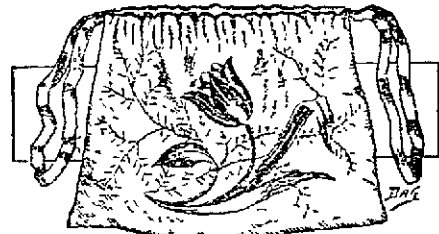

If it is not desired to have colors,
then the pillow may be prettily worked out in tan shades on natural colored linen, or the delft blues may be used.

A prettier design for a Christmas pillow can hardly be imagined.

AN APRON WORKBAG.

Christmas Present Idea Borrowed
From the Land of the Czars.

The idea used in making this apron
workbag was taken from the land of the czars, where all the women in every station of life are expert workers in embroidery. The apron illustrated is made of one yard of silk, but

MATERIALS REQUIRED.

Three yards of silk or pongee.
Five yards of inch wide ribbon.
Embroidery silks.

pretty cretonne is an excellent material to use. Divide the yard into three parts, two of which form the bag and the other third the apron, and mark carefully. Hem one end, then fold over at the two-thirds mark and run a tack along this line the same depth as the hem. Be careful not to do it on the same side as the end hem, as this forms the other side of the bag, through which the ribbon is run to draw up the bag when not in use.

Hem the apron portion the same side as the tack. Embroider the front of the bag as illustrated or work the initials of the prospective owner. Join up the sides, run a ribbon through from each end which draws the bag up, then run a ribbon through the waist part.

Becky Sharp Needlebooks.

Quaint and pretty are the Becky Sharp needlebooks, completed at so little trouble, too, that they are well worth describing. Two pieces of cardboard five inches in diameter are covered first with perfumed cotton and then with silk or satin, not necessarily alike. If the contrast is good, though the effect is better if the two forming the lining match. Overhand all around the circles and cover the stitches with a fine silk cord, then connect the two by means of a bow of narrow ribbon and sew in flannel leaves pinked on their edges for holding the needles. The ties are of ribbon, and at this stage
very fine lace edged doilies the size of the needlebook are sewed invisibly to the outer parts of the covers. This is a dainty addition to the workbox as well as a useful one.

Gift For Bostonians.

If she is a Boston girl or he is a Boston man, give her one of the new in-vulnerable pottery bean pots with covers.
They are table novelties that are pre-tially enough to decorate the shelf of the library or dining room.

Too Risky

Ask your doctor if he does not think it would be wise for you to keep a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house.

"A hard chill, pain through the chest, difficult breathing." If this should be your experience, send for your doctor. It may be pneumonia!
To doctor yourself would be too risky. If your doctor cannot come at once, give Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. When he comes, tell him exactly what you have done. J. C. Ayer & Co.,

THE COST OF BAD ROADS

Alherton S. Cushman, one of the experts of the Department of Agriculture, has been furnishing some stupendous figures indicating the tribute the rural communities of the nation pay every year for the privilege of having bad roads. In an address before a good roads convention at Atlantic City, Mr. Cushman said:

"There are 2,151,570 miles of public roads in the United States. Of this mileage statistic for the year 1901 show that about 7 per cent. are improved. During the crop year 1905-06 $5,487,000,000 pounds of farm products were hauled over common roads from farms to shipping points. No figures are included for forest or mine products, or for the general commodities of life that go from city to country. It is evident that the lightest saying in cost of hauling per ton would assume striking proportions when considered for the entire country. Figures show that these great crops traveled in wagons over the country roads 208,432,644 miles, merely in being transported from the farm to the railroad shipping point. Investigations have established the fact that the average cost of hauling per ton per mile is about 25 cents; on stone roads, dry and in good order, about 8 cents; on stone roads in ordinary condition, 12 cents; on earth roads containing ruts and mud, 30 cents; on sandy roads when wet, 33 cents; on sandy roads when dry, 64 cents.

A reduction in the cost of hauling from 25 cents to 12 cents would mean an average saving of over $250,000,000.

The figures quoted, and Mr. Cushman is relying only on the record, show that the American people are paying about $1,000,000 a day as a penalty for their refusal or failure to get into the good roads movement. The $250,000,000 referred to by Mr. Cushman becomes more significant when it is remembered that it is a loss which comes direct from the pockets of the farmers. The railroads do not pay any particular attention to the condition of the country roads. They take the wheat, corn and other farm products at the railway station and the producer gets the value, or market price, of the shipment. If the farmers of the nation are paying $1,000,000 a day more than they should in the cost of carrying their products to the shipping point, it requires no expert to show that if they had good roads they would be receiving $1,000,000 a day more for their products than they are now receiving, or about $3 a year for every man, woman and child in the nation. Every cent saved in the cost of transportation is a cent added to the price the farmer receives for his products. The addition of $250,000,000 a year to the income of the American farmers would mean a great strengthening of the purchasing power of the agricultural class and a marked increase of agricultural assets. In addition to this direct gain, the good roads add a value to every acre of farm land in the nation, a growth in value that would much more than cover the cost of establishing and maintaining good roads. No farmer can lose on any investment he may make in improving the highways.

The Good Roads Association of Ohio, whose offices are in Cleveland, is taking a very active part in the movement for the improvement of roads in Ohio. They advocate increased state aid for road building, state construction and maintenance of the main thoroughfares of the state, the absolute removal of road work from politics and the placing of road workers on a civil service basis.

LOCAL OPTION

This is a reply to "A Citizen and Taxpayer" in last night's Advocate. Yes, the people who are working vigorously for local option do realize it is time something was being done in Newark, that the families of the men who are spending their money for drink might be better supported.

Mr. Saloonkeeper, or Mr. Taxpayer, you had better be out of work. Your store rooms and houses had better be empty than continue the business you are in.

We would beg of you to find some other business that the wrath of thousands may not be upon your heads. As for the merchants, they will sell better clothing to those who now spend their money in the saloon, and the lawyers, doctors and dentists might be able to collect some unpaid bills.

You say everyone will have less money to spend. Thank God, some will have more money to spend. As for the respectable saloon, there is nothing WORSE—for the man with the liquor appetite than the saloon with the screens to hide behind and music and everything to make it attractive. He may try to pass your doors, but he cannot. You are glad he cannot. It is your business, and if he has not got the liquor appetite, it is your business also to help him to get that appetite. We all know the good local option has done for others, thank God. Give up the business and help to vote Old Licking county dry.

CARE OF A DOG.

How He Should Be Treated to Keep Him in Good Condition.

A dog's digestion is almost identical with a man's, except that it requires twice as much time. Scraps from the table will usually form a properly balanced ration. Let the dog foods alone. Give the puppy three meals a day until he is eight months old. Then two meals only. Don't let him have all he will eat, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A house dog should have his heavy meal in the morning and the light one at night. An outdoor dog needs the heavy meal at night to keep him warm through the night.

If a dog is costive stir his sluggish liver by a dose of one-half teaspoonful each of buckthorn and castor oil. A spoonful of raw black molasses will act as a mild laxative. This is especially good for puppies, for in this they get in soluble form the salt they require. Table salt they are slow to assimilate.

Many people overdo the washing of dogs. This is a process rarely needed, because dogs do not perspire through the skins as we do, but from the tongue. Soap and water robs the hair of necessary oil.

The proper way to clean the hair is by brushing with a coarse handbrush. White dogs are cleaned by rubbing in, then brushing out, powdered magnesia.

Fleas do not breed in the hair of dogs, but in sandy soil. They get on the dog, but he suffers more discomfort than pain from their bites.

Cedar excelsior as bedding in the kennel is a tried and tested flea exterminator. If your nearest upholsterer cannot let you have a pound of it try rubbing your dog's pelt with a magnesia brick which you have saturated with 10 cents' worth of spirits of camphor.

How to Stuff a Turkey.

Make a stuffing for turkey of a large cupful of crumbs, seasoning with parsley, sweet marjoram and thyme and moisten with melted butter. Chop twenty small oysters fine and mix with the dressing. If you prefer you may leave the oysters whole. With this stuffing fill the breast of the turkey.

Even when a fellow takes his meals out he must also take them in.

COURT NEWS

Juvenile Court.

Charles Moats, aged 14 years whose home is in the East End, was called before Juvenile Court, Friday morning. It seems that he and several other boys had been chasing another little boy, who was hit on the elbow by a stone thrown by the Moats boy. Young Moats has already been at the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, for truancy. The court gave him a severe reprimand and put him under a suspended sentence to the Boys' Industrial school.

Probate Court.

Probate Judge Brister heard the arguments in case of Owen P. Miller as administrator of Eugene Bodle, against J. W. Neighborger, who was charged with concealing assets, a $700 note belonging to the estate. Neighborger had the note in his possession and admitted it. He claimed it was given to him by Bodle a short time before his death. The other case heard was the application filed by the heirs of John H. Evans, to remove the administratrix, who was lately appointed for the state of John H. Evans, on the ground that the estate had been fully administered upon. The widow of John H. Evans, Catherine Evans, was appointed administratrix of the estate on the statement that no years' support had ever been set off to her, when her husband died, 39 years ago. The heirs set up the statute of limitations as barring her claim. The court reserved its decision of both cases.

Train Riders Arrested.

D. C. String, Fred Hohn, H. S. Weaver and S. W. Wilson were arrested by Railroad Detectives Andrews and Bennett for train riding. They were brought before Justice Holton, who fined them $1 and costs each. In the cases of String and Wilson the fines were remitted and they paid the costs and were discharged. The other two were sent to jail.

Reply Filed.

In the case of M. B. Kasson and C. G. Kasson, administrators of the estate of Royal Kasson, deceased, on John E. Hodges, the plaintiffs have filed their reply to the answer of defendant. They deny all the allegations made by defendant.

GREAT RESULTS AND GOOD WORK CONTINUES

Root Juice Has Proved Its Great Merit to Many.

Many people here, as elsewhere, are no longer incredulous, they are simply amazed at the results obtained from Root Juice. When the remedy was first introduced to this community and so many were being benefited by a few doses, it was generally thought that the medicine would only give temporary relief, but as the time passes and many that were ailing are no longer complaining, but are advising their sick friends to try Root Juice, confidence in the great medicine is becoming positive. Root Juice makes so many remarkable cures by removing a few causes and giving nature a chance. It tones and heals the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys; it creates a healthy appetite, and by its toning action on the blood-making and blood filtering organs, good, rich blood is made to nourish every weak part of the body. If your stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys are out of order, they will be pleased to tell you all about it at the City Drug Store. Root Juice, $1 a bottle. It has proved all that is claimed for it.

Anty Drudge Gives the Conductor Pointers.

Conductor—"Beg pardon, ma'am, for dropping the nickel; I'll get it for you right away. Those gloves make my hands so clumsy, but if I didn't wear them my hands would be as dirty as my linen. What with handling money, and the pushing and shoving, my things get so dirty, my wife doesn't like to wash 'em."

Anty Drudge—"Well, that's a sad state of affairs. Get her to try Fels-Naptha and she shall complain no more about washing your clothes. No backaches from Fels-Naptha, or hard work either. Your wife can do a day's washing before noon if she uses it."

When Fels-Naptha soap is used the hanging out is the hardest part of the washing.

No boiling, either winter or summer. No fire to keep red hot; no tiring and tedious rub-a-dub on the washboard.

Fels-Naptha itself does the hardest part of the washday work—loosening the dirt.

All the human aid necessary is a few rubs, a quick rinsing and the clothes are ready for wringing.

Out they go on the line, sweeter and whiter than if a whole day were spent trying to grind out the dirt on a washboard.

CHANGE OF HEART

offer of woman's triumphed independence.

Shiel Maclean listened to the words, feeling as if he did not that he would not make efforts to fill the vacant place which the late Mr. John Wishart had left in the family.

She had evidently made a mistake in letting him overhear her opinion, which was somewhat of a pity from Helen Wishart's point of view.

She was recently enamored of the good-looking engineer, but since he had begun to follow in the trail of her silk-lined, exquisitely cut skirts, she had decided that it would be possible to do much worse than surrender.

He would be such an eminently presentable man "to take out," he would be popular with other women's husbands, he would (she felt sure) return all his wife's social leads with discretion, he would take—

But it was no good reflecting upon what he would do when that one swift antagonistic glance had told her (as single glances often do) how entirely her reign had ended.

"I didn't know—er—Mrs. Wishart, that you were a female suffragist!" he said in an irritating tone of politely contemptuous banter that made Helen actively hate him on the spot.

"No," she replied, with an insolently disagreeable smile. "Well, I don't as a rule take the trouble of airing my views except to people who—er—are likely to understand them."

And at that moment each wondered how they could ever vaguely have contemplated marrying the other!

"You very much disagree with the liberty of oppressed womanhood then, Mr. Maclean?" was Mrs. Wishart's next remark.

"I disagree with everything that brings women into undue notoriety, deeply bought by means of ill-considered opinions," answered Shiel who was getting more and more of the platform woman, you can't wonder your opinionator in ill-considered skirts, your headstrong temper in battered hats. Men were made to think things and arrange things for women, who should only establish their sovereignty by dependence.

"How beautifully you express yourself!" ejaculated Mrs. Wishart, with mocking admiration. "And you like the gentle creatures whose greatest wit is a monosyllable, who defers to man as a body and as an individual, who never raises her voice except to warble drawing room ballads, and whose refined instincts would revolt at tales about man-sweated factory girls, man-oppressed seamstresses, and man-oppressed suicides? Is that what you like, Mr. Maclean?"

"Yes, Mrs. Wishart, that is what I like."

"I don't believe you do really like that sort of woman. At least, perhaps you've never met one—have you?"

"I—I—er—think—"

"I don't believe you have, so just to test your theory, will you come to tea on Thursday? I am expecting a prim little person—(Lillian Dew is her name, she lives in a tiny flat with a large aunt)—who is all you profess to admire. She bores me to death, and I only ask her round from a scheme of social duty and pity. Will you come and acknowledge that you don't like what you think you like?"

Certainly he would go, and make a point of showing Helen Wishart how keenly he appreciated any woman entirely unlike herself.

"I shall be delighted to take tea with you on Thursday," he said.

Thus—with a smile-sneer from Helen—the matter was settled, and three days later the argumentative engineer presented himself at the strong-viewed widow's house.

Mrs. Wishart, singularly overdressed in a smart, glaring tea gown, with her hair arranged in a specially entire style, greeted him with blatant camaraderie, and presented him to the "prim person."

Mr. Maclean, Miss Lillian Dew, and as Shiel loved he came to the decision that the girl Mrs. Wishart had asked out of pity, was just what a girl should be.

Her blue eyes were full of womanly gentleness; her little mouth smiled just as much as it was decorous to smile; her left cheek dimple was in itself a protest against suffragism.

"Grossly cold today, isn't it?" remarked Mrs. Wishart, with an affected shiver.

"I don't agree with you—I find it warm," answered Shiel pugnaciously. "What do you think, Miss Dew?" turning deferentially to the "prim little person."

"Yes, I think it's warm," responded Lillian in a soft whisper.

And from that moment Mrs. Lillian Dew's conquest was complete—complete, partly because her sweetness and politeness did really appeal to the tenderness of Shiel's nature; partly because she was so entirely antithetical to the widow who had annoyed him, and partly because the feeling of oppression raged wildly within him.

Tea and talk lasted over an hour, during which time Lillian said "Yes," "No," "O, dear," "Of course," "No, certainly not," just whenever Shiel felt she ought to have said it, with the result that when she rose to take her leave the argumentative engineer asked permission to accompany her as far as her flat, a request which was granted with shy courtesy, perhaps just faintly touched with gratitude.

When they reached the flat Shiel boldly asked if he might come in, to which request Lillian answered, "O, yes; please do—yes." Then he was presented to "auntie," and—well, as we of today are too busy for detail, it is more considerate to concisely state that three months later they were engaged, with the wedding settled for six weeks ahead.

When Shiel Maclean returned from his honeymoon it was with the decided opinion that marriage was a success, anyhow for the man who had married a gentle, womanly girl to whom the gentle art of argument was unknown.

Never once during the whole month letter addressed by a hand which at one time had penned many playful little notes directed to himself.

"Dear Mr. Maclean—Please don't be alarmed when I ask you meet me tomorrow (Thursday) at 2:45, in Charing Cross first-class waiting room. This sounds a shocking request to make to a happy young bridegroom, and worse nous at present, I have promised to marry Col. Carey before Xmas. Sincerely yours, Helen Wishart."

Shiel's first impulse was to refuse, but when he read Helen's calmly friendly letter for the second time a feeling of reassurance, not altogether unmingled with curiosity, stole over him.

Punctually at 2:45 Mrs. Wishart was somewhat stiffly greeted by a well-groomed person wearing a top hat and a gentlemanly glare.

"So good and brave of you to come!" she exclaimed with one of those smiles which Shiel remembered as being especially irritating. "Now we'll walk a little way along—let's cross and make for Trafalgar-sq—then I'll tell you why I've been so shockingly forward as to ask you here. This way!"

Quickly and gracefully Mrs. Wishart scudded through lines of murderous motor buses, politely jostling people who got in her way—while Shiel followed in the train of her rustling silken skirts, wondering as he went if anything was more exciting than a woman who could take care of herself.

His little Lillian always seemed in need of a strong arm—even if that strong arm wasn't the least bit of good!

"Good gracious! What's ever's happening here?" exclaimed Shiel as a huge crowd became visible massing round the base of one of the columns.

"Let's go over and see," replied Helen, scudding as before till they reached the scene of excitement.

"Votes for women!" demanded a huge purple banner, nicely trimmed with fringe, which rather rudely covered one of those dignified lions who are forced to listen to more piffle than any animals in Europe.

And then Shiel Maclean knew he was in the midst of a suffragist meeting.

"O, let's get out of this," he said, just as the sound of a woman's voice rose above the subsiding din.

He started—he roared—he pressed forward—he put his gold-rimmed pince-nez—he uttered one gasping groan—then he became mute and rigid as the patient statue on top of the column.

"I am glad you'll let me say just one thing more," continued that woman's voice which was clear and penetrating, although not strained or raucous, "because it's only fair for you men to give me my chance. And beside giving me my chance now you'll help to give it to every woman, won't you?"

"A sense of fairness must make you see that men have had everything their own way from the very beginning, and not only have they managed their own affairs, but ours as well. Now we don't want to interfere with them—we only just want to arrange our own business because it's a fact that men don't understand us a bit.

"They are bullies, everyone of them—not because they want to be, I feel sure, but because laws and habits and customs have made them so. I don't say Down with the Men—I only say Up with the Women I only—"

Here suddenly the speaker paused—she had seen a face in the crowd—a face crowned by an immaculately brushed silk hat and decorated by gold-rimmed pince-nez.

A lovely smile illumined the suffragist's face—she bent forward and spoke again.

A hum—a roar—a few jeers, but much applause, as a slender grey-gowned figure stepped backward and one dominating man brushed his hand across his eyes.

The suffragist had spoken and the husband had heard.

"I didn't tell you, dear, because Helen Wishart advised me not to do so before we were married. Then when you—you got to like me, she made me promise I wouldn't say a word till we were married, and then one day she would give you a lovely surprise and bring you to hear me speak. She told me you had such sympathy with the movement that when you knew the truth you—would care for me more than ever!"

Then Lillian, who had just come home to find Shiel waiting in their cozy red-and-oak dining room, slipped one hand through her husband's arm.

"Do you care for me more than ever, dearest?" she whispered.

Shiel looked into her blue eyes, then took her in his arms and spoke absolutely the truth.

"Yes—darling—I do!" he said.

Now—Well now he takes the chair, pours out glasses of water, and even hammers the table at all the meetings when his wife pleads her sister's cause.

Helen Wishart—well, she is very much amused! Of course, she considered she scored, and also reversed the loss of her own power over one mere man—but sometimes—when the suffragette and her husband look into each other's eyes—she is not quite sure.

Perhaps it was the cause which scored!—or the man!!!

PERFECTLY TRUTHFUL.

Said He—"If I were to ask you your age would you give me a truthful answer?"

Said She—"Indeed I would."

Said He—"Well, how old are you?"

Said She—"None of your business."

"THEY ARE BULLIES, EVERYONE OF THEM."

please do—yes. Then he was presented to "auntie," and—well, as we of today are too busy for detail, it is more considerate to concisely state that three months later they were engaged, with the wedding settled for six weeks ahead.

THREE LOVERS

JONES & JONES were partners in a dry goods house in a suburban village. They were also old bachelors, each being about 40 years old. Graham was proprietor of a shoe store in the same village. He was also an old bachelor and friend of both of the Messrs. Jones.

It was his usual habit after closing his store in the evening to drop into the other shop for a few minutes' chat.

Things went by rote with the three old bachelors. On Mondays, Hiram Jones went into the city to pick up bargains in the dry goods line. On Tuesdays, the boot and shoe man went in to fill any orders he might have taken. On Wednesdays the other Jones, whose first name was Thomas, went into see about financial matters.

They had been doing this for years. Hiram Jones came back one afternoon looking very moody and having little to say. His partner did not seek to draw him out, but came back the next afternoon he was back with the same demeanor. When the partners had looked at each other for a long minute in silence Hiram said:

"Tom, I'll bet I know what ails you."

"Same as ailed me the other afternoon. You saw her and fell in love."

"I did Hiram. Say what glorious golden hair!"

"And such brown eyes."

"And such a rosebud mouth!"

"A C such dimples in her chin and such peachy cheeks."

They referred to a girl of course—to one who had lately moved into the village and who took the train every morning for the city and returned in the evening. The assumption was that she was employed in some office.

"What are you going to do?" asked Hiram after their respective exclamations.

"But see here, Tom, she is the first and only woman I ever loved."

"Same here! I hadn't gazed at her over two minutes when I felt like dying for her."

"It will make trouble between us, you persist."

"Yes, there will be trouble if you don't haul off the track. You are no friend of mine if you even look at the glorious creature again."

That evening when Graham dropped in as usual he noticed that the relations between the partners were strained for the first time in years.

He felt delicate about showing any curiosity and he felt that it was a happy inspiration when he suddenly said:

"Say, boys, you may have at me if you will, but I'm head over heels in love. Yes, sir, I'm clean gone."

"Um!" granted Hiram Jones.

"Um!" granted Thomas Jones as both their hearts beat faster and they cast a furtive look at each other.

"Saw her on the car as I went into town yesterday," continued Graham.

"Gold, but you ought to see her golden hair! You ought to look into those brown eyes of hers. She's something new around here. Either one of you old moss-backs run across her yet?"

"No," lied Hiram Jones.

"No," lied Thomas Jones.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE ORPHIUM. A good bill is on at the Orphium theatre here this week. The Rhinoceros, a musical comedy, is being presented by the troupe. The troupe is made up of the finest actors and actresses in the city. The troupe is made up of the finest actors and actresses in the city. The troupe is made up of the finest actors and actresses in the city.

WALTER & MAGILL. German Sketch Team at the Orphium Theatre.

act that is pretty, novel and high class. In every respect and one that can only be appreciated by being witnessed. The male member, Clyde Rosebrugh, an old Newark boy, is meeting many friends here this week.

Al Wilson, black-face comedian, is great. Mr. Wilson is an old minister man who never fails to get a laugh. His comedy is all good and mostly original.

Waller & Magill, who have been seen here before, have revised their turn a little with good results. It is as entertaining as ever and was well received at both shows Thursday evening.

The closing act, the Cossacs' comedy sketch, "Our Honeymoon," is one of the best high class comedy sketches that patrons of the Orphium have seen in many moons. Both are clever performers and good looking. They present a well written sketch that shows the dangers that beset over-loving honeymooners.

The picture films are entertaining as usual. All together, this bill at the "family theatre" presents one of the best shows of the season's vaudeville program here.

A poor company inflicted East Lynne on the unsuspecting public at the Auditorium theatre last night. The usual tears of sorrow for the out-cast wife and mother, last night appeared as tears of genuine amusement at the ridiculous part of the company of performers. There is a difference between amusement and entertainment. Last night's production of East Lynne was about as amusing as one could imagine a serious drama.

FILLED MANY TIMES

Many Persons Here Benefited by the "Vegetable Prescription" and Druggists are Kept Busy.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacist supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week. If taken according to directions, good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

THANKSGIVING PUDDING.

How to Prepare Various Kinds of This Dessert.

In the preparation of bread puddings the housekeeper should remember that, while bread in some form is used as the foundation, the other ingredients, such as milk, cream, butter, eggs, dried, fresh or canned fruits, spices and flavoring, must be added with a generous hand, for in this alone lies the difference between the insipid, watery bread pudding studded with a few lonesome currants and the delicious cabinet pudding which is considered the very acme of delicacy, says the Delicater.

It is also desirable, unless one is instructed to the contrary, to warm the milk after the bread is added, mashing thoroughly with a wire potato masher or similar implement while heating, and if skimmed milk only is available a tiny pinch of baking soda should be added to prevent curdling. Bake the pudding if possible in a china or earthenware dish that has been well buttered, testing it by thrusting a thin bladed silver knife into the center. If found clear upon its removal the pudding is baked.

Ginger Pudding.—Upon two cupfuls of crumbled bread crumbs pour sufficient hot sirup drained from a pint pot of preserved Canton ginger to moisten, thoroughly beating with a wooden spoon to a paste. Then add one well beaten egg, the yolk and white beaten separately, a saltspoonful of grated nutmeg, two tablespoonfuls of powdered macaroons and half a cupful of the ginger cut in dice. Turn at once into an ornamental pudding mold that has been buttered and steam for two hours. At serving time unmold on a hot platter and serve with a hot, foamy sauce.

Chocolate Pudding.—To a quart of boiling milk allow a pint of grated bread, beating well before adding the other ingredients, then stir in one small cupful of sugar, three eggs and two squares of unsweetened chocolate, favoring with a scant half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract and a little ground cinnamon. Pour into small custard cups and bake, set in a panful of hot water for thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Allow them to cool and then place directly on the ice until ready to serve, turning them out on individual dessert plates, resting on a lace paper dolly. Garnish each with a star of sweetened whipped cream.

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters, the great system tonic and builder.

ESTABLISHED 1876.

Bentley's White Lily Catarrh Cure has become the leader. It's a necessary now in thousands of homes, because it is helpful, wholesome and clean. A scientific remedy. Williams' Kidney Pills.

Have you neglected your kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your kidneys and bladder? Have you pains in loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent a desire to pass urine? If so, Williams' Kidney Pills will cure you. Price 50 cents. Sold by R. W. Smith, Newark.

THE THANKSGIVING TABLE.

How to Make a Feast For the Eye as Well as the Palate.

As Thanksgiving is a national custom it becomes us to treat it handsomely and make it not only a feast to the palate, but to the eye. Nothing can do this so well as the adornment of the table with flower and leaf and vine, making its appearance as charming to the view as its aroma is to the appetite, says the Delicater.

If you haven't a brilliant little scarlet poinsettia for the center of the table now is the time and place for the dish of ferns you brought in some time ago from the wet places before the frost had touched them to withered gold and for a wreathlike garland arrangement about it on the snowy cloth of the small leaves of the white-leaved yucca pressed immediately after plucking, with all its rich tints of orange and carmine yet unfaded. If, however, you are so fortunate as to have an akodia vine anywhere on the premises you can have the preferable living green. This is a Japanese hardy vine, acclimated over here for perhaps a century, whose curious flowers of a reddish purple, male and female in one pendulous cluster, belong to the heats of summer, but whose small leaves are green and delicate even in midwinter.

But if you have gathered none of these things you can purchase a little pot of maidenhair fern and can lay the sprays around the centerpiece and up and down the table just before the guests are seated, as they shrivel so soon. You can hardly have a prettier effect than this in its pure green and white contrast, unless there is added to it a tiny boutonniere at every place, made only of a single bud, together with a leaf of the rose geranium or lemon verbena plucked from these provided for the finger bowls. At such a table one dines without feeling as if he were satisfying only the material tastes.

How to Make a Room Look Larger. To increase the apparent size of a room there is nothing better than the judicious use of mirrors.

Suppose that you have a glass about five feet high and two wide, in a wooden frame, you may employ it most decoratively in a sitting room.

Mount it about a couple of feet from the floor and arrange in front of it a row of ferns, palms or other foliage plants, concealing the pots with a handsome box filled at the top with fresh moss.

The mirror should be placed either where it will reflect the view from the window or else opposite the entrance of the room, so that when the door is opened one may see the hall or passage beyond reflected in it. Of course the room will not be any larger really, but the fact that it will appear so is a great point, for, as a friend of my own says, "if we cannot have a pleasant reality at least let us have a pleasant illusion."

I know one house where the dining room is long and dark, and the only window gives a very insufficient light. Here an immense improvement was effected by placing a good mirror over the sideboard at the end of the room opposite the window.

This reflected the light and the landscape seen from the window, with the result that one was almost deluded into the belief that the room had two windows, and one certainly was not conscious of the want of an outlet.

How to Make Boiled Apple Pudding.

Half a loaf of bread crumbs, to which add a little salt. Pare, core and cut into thin slices two green apples, four ounces of chopped suet, half a cupful of boiling water sufficient to moisten the mixture. Rub a little salt on the inside of the mold to make it smooth. Pack the mixture firmly as tightly as possible into the mold. Fasten the lid down securely and place in a boiler with only sufficient water in the bottom to make a steam. Let it boil this way for one hour, turn out and eat with the following sauce:

One cup of granulated sugar, quarter of a cup of water. Put together on the fire and allow to melt quickly, to which add the rind of half a lemon chopped fine, not grated. One minute after the sirup begins to boil (kept any longer it turns to candy) remove it and add the juice of half a lemon. Serve hot.

How to Mark Your Linen.

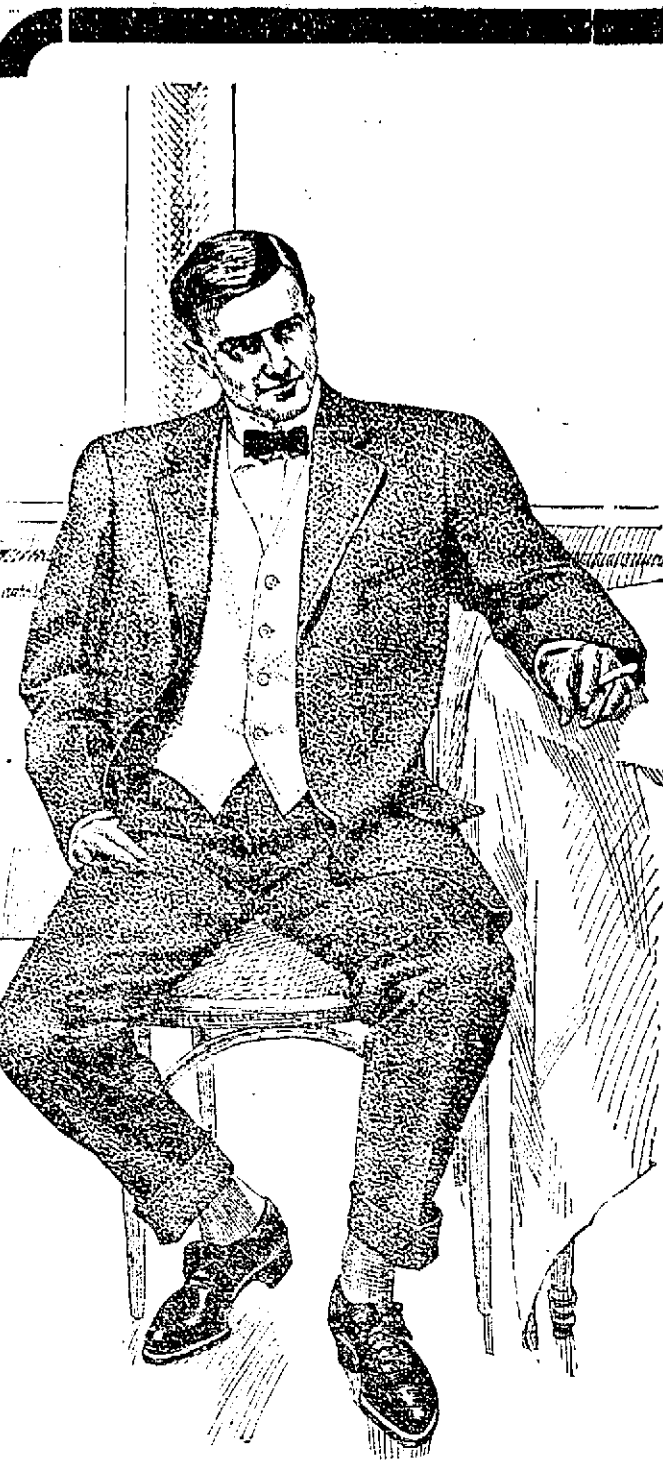

The most satisfactory method of marking clothes that go to the laundry is with a rubber stamp bearing your name. Each separate article may thus be stamped with the least possible trouble, and the result will be a legible marking. The name need not be put in a conspicuous place. In fact, it might be tucked away in some odd corner where it will not show, yet is sure proof of ownership. The stamp is inexpensive, and one may buy a pad and indelible ink at small cost. It is a very economical idea.

How to Clean a Sewing Machine.

To keep a sewing machine in good condition it needs an occasional cleaning with kerosene. Saturate the machine with kerosene and then run the machine briskly for several minutes without thread, of course. This will loosen all old oil and dust, which should be wiped away with a soft cloth until the machine is perfectly clean. Then oil it with machine oil.

How to Make Pumpkin Pie.

Boil and press through a sieve a quart of pumpkin. Add two quarts of rich milk. Sweeten to taste, adding spice and a little nutmeg. A piece of butter the size of an egg may be added while the pumpkin is still hot. Last, add six eggs well beaten and pour the mixture into the prepared crust and bake rather slowly. This will make two large pies.

How to Remove the Smell of Paint.

Every one knows that an onion has a distinct and unpleasant odor, whether cooked or raw. But every one does not know that this odor of an onion will draw to it every other disagreeable odor and clear the house atmosphere in a day.

The onion can then be thrown away, and with it goes the disagreeable smells that come about in a house that has been closed for the summer.

And this is also a good thing to know: That it will absorb all the odor from fresh paint and turpentine. If the house has been freshly painted and cleaned this month for the winter's occupancy the people moving into it will be miserable with the smells that come from walls and floors.

After the fresh country these odors will be unendurable.

One onion should be cut into small pieces and placed about the room in two or three saucers. Allow an onion to each room, and let the saucers remain there over day and night. If every bit of odor hasn't gone in that time put a few fresh pieces in for the next day.

WANTED 50 MEN AND WOMEN.

W. A. Erman & Son, the enterprising druggists, are advertising today for fifty men and women to take advantage of the special half price offer they are making on Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and get a fifty cent package at half price, 25 cents.

So positive are they of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headache and liver troubles, that they agree to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand, you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth the living.

This is an unusual opportunity to obtain 50 doses of the best medicine ever made for half its regular price, with the personal guarantee of a well-known business firm, to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

If you cannot call at W. A. Erman & Son's store today, send them 25 cents by mail and they will send you a package, promptly, charges paid.

How Professionals Starch Clothes.

The laundry method for starching collars and cuffs is considered by some housewives to be much superior to the usual home method. After the shirts and collars and cuffs have been washed and dried they are ready for starching. Use five tablespoonfuls of starch and one-half cup of cold water, one-half teaspoonful of borax and a quart of boiling water. Cook the starch for half an hour. This is to be used merely on the bosoms, collars and cuffs of shirts and on the plaited fronts of shirt waists.

Stretch a cloth tightly on the table and tuck it so as to keep it smooth. The starch will be like jelly and should be rubbed in with the fingers. The rubbing is not complete until the various thicknesses are as one, and the starch then must be wiped from both sides with a damp cloth.

How to Remove Rust Spots. Whenever the ordinary books and eyes have been used on light colored frocks there are almost sure to be spots of iron rust as a result. The very first thing to do is to rip off the fasteners and get the rustless kind.

Then rub each spot of rust with salts of lemon and wash out thoroughly. It may be necessary to repeat this two or three times, but it is worth the trouble. If you haven't this preparation use plain lemon juice. Soak the salt in it, put it on the spot and expose to the sun.

How to Remove Mildew.

Should the clothes be mildewed the stains may be removed by a mixture containing equal parts of soft soap and starch, half as much common salt and the juice of half a lemon. This may be spread over the spots, and the article should be laid on the grass all day and all night until the stain entirely disappears.

Put light in the eye, tints the cheek with Nature's bloom, loosens the tension of life, brushes the cobwebs from the brain, that's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents. Tea or tablets. W. A. Erman & Son.

How to Make an Excellent Desk Pad.

A desk pad that, with a little care and dexterity, can be made at home successfully was seen among some new things not long ago.

Two pieces of cardboard about 20 by 14 inches in size were pasted together at one of the longer edges, making what looks like a pageless book cover.

This was covered by a piece of flowered cretonne neatly turned at the edges and these raw edges covered by a piece of firm white paper which extended over the entire inside of the pad.

Two or more pieces of blotting paper were inserted and fastened by ribbons passed through both covers and blotting paper and tied on the outside.

A piece of ribbon of the same shade, but wider, was fastened so that it ran diagonally across each cover and, tying, held the leaves in place.

How to Make an Excellent Pudding.

Put in a mixing dish one-half cupful of molasses, one cupful of sweet milk, one cupful of seeded and floured raisins or currants. Mix one level teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves with two cupfuls of graham flour and sift. Now mix with molasses, milk and fruit and beat well.

Put the mixture in baking powder cans and steam. This amount will fill four half pound cans about two-thirds full. Put on covers and steam one hour.

Two one pound cans may be used if preferred, but pudding must be steamed two hours if larger cans are used. Any good pudding sauce that is not too rich may be used.

PERSONAL

Mrs. J. S. Bost of Lilly, Pa., has been cured by Father John's Medicine of a dry hacking cough which her doctor said was consumption. Mr. Bost says he believes Father John's Medicine will cure any throat or lung trouble if taken in time as that remedy builds up the body and fortifies it against disease.

Mrs. A. Bilodeau, 303 Lincoln St., Lewiston, Me., was sick four years. Her doctor said she had consumption, but she was cured by Father John's Medicine.

MEETING OF BANKERS WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Afternoon Program Brought to Close by Election of Officers—Date of Next Meeting Not Set.

The meeting of Group 5 of the Ohio Bankers' Association, which was held here Thursday, was a decided success in every particular, and congratulations on the part of the guests proved conclusively that the efforts of the reception committee were not in vain. The afternoon program was brought to a close with the election of officers, and the meeting was declared adjourned at almost exactly 4:30 o'clock.

In the selection of officers of the group for the ensuing period there are but two changes noted. Chairman W. F. Hoffman of Columbus was succeeded in that office by John L. Bushnell of the First National bank, Springfield, O., son of the late ex-Governor Asa S. Bushnell. Mr. Bushnell's place on the executive committee was filled by the election of J. A. Miller of Mt. Sterling, O. The other members of the committee, re-elected, are W. S. Courtright, Columbus, E. C. Wright, Newark, H. B. Peters, Lancaster, and P. J. Burnham of Mechanicsburg.

S. C. Atbuckle, assistant secretary of the Ohio Bankers' association, was unanimously re-elected secretary-treasurer of the group. Mr. Atbuckle is a Columbus man.

A. E. Rice of Fremont, O., president of the state association, who was expected to be present, was unable to be here on account of other matters needing his attention, but sent a message of regret, and expressed his hope that the meeting would be a successful and enjoyable affair.

The closing of the program was thoroughly enjoyed by the visitors and local participants. The discussion of the question of "Commercial Paper" and the views on the amount of reserve a bank should maintain, proved highly interesting to the bankers and a number of impromptu remarks were made on these subjects. Mr. Bushnell presided throughout the session.

The visiting bankers began their departure immediately at the close of the meeting, the Columbus bankers over the interurban line. Many of those from a greater distance returned at the Sherwood and Warden hotels for dinner, departing on later evening trains.

The next meeting of the group will be held in the spring, but the exact time and place has not been decided upon, but will be left to the judgment of the executive committee.

LACK OF BLOOD

Produced an Endless Amount of Suffering for This Toledo Woman.

She Saw Benefit at Once When She Tried the Tonic Treatment and It Cured Her.

In no disease is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anemia, or poverty of the blood. This disorder is common in persons who are overworked or confined within doors and makes its approach in so stealthy a manner that it is often well developed before its presence is recognized.

But taken in time the disease is readily curable, the specific being a tonic medicine which increases the number of red blood corpuscles, thus enabling the blood to carry the life-giving oxygen to all the tissues of the body. Such a tonic is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have had unbounded success in curing this stubborn disease because of this wonderful property. The cure of anemia by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as anything in medical science.

"The doctor said I had anemia," says Mrs. C. J. Leeper, of No. 725 Mark street, Toledo, Ohio, "and I was certainly all run down. My back ached all the time and I was very thin and pale. My digestion was bad and I was much troubled with belching of gas. My heart would palpitate and I would have spells when I could hardly breathe. Nothing I ate seemed to agree with me."

"My doctor gave me medicine and I took it regularly but I could not see that I got any better. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills mentioned in a newspaper and gave them a trial. After taking them I could see right away that I was being benefited and I began to feel and look like myself again. I think that the pills cannot be equalled as a medicine to build one up."

Many people suffer as Mrs. Leeper did and we want all of them to know that there is a remedy suited exactly for their condition. A helpful booklet "Poverty of the Blood" giving more information about anemia will be sent free upon request. If you are suffering from impoverished blood you cannot afford to wait another day before giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a thorough trial. They are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

his stand for good government. He is a devout Catholic, and for over 15 years has been affiliated with the great Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, which is doing such tremendous work in lifting men up from lives of drunkenness and debauchery.

Papers all over the country have commented favorably on Mayor Brennan's method of giving the pledge to those unfortunate fellows who are brought before him charged with drunkenness, rather than punishing them, and hundreds of fellows are today leading better lives through his efforts. He has touched elbows with the fellows who drink, and he is in a position to tell you the practical side of the temperance question.

A PRETTY ROMANCE.

Miss Hattie Day Roberts, daughter of Manley Roberts of Roseville, O., and Rollin Earl Hardway, circulating manager of the Evening Argus, were married Thursday evening at Zanesville, O., and after spending a couple of days with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hardway of Newark, O., arrived in Owosso on the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Hardway will reside at the corner of Elizabeth and Water streets in this city.

Mr. Hardway has been in Owosso but a few weeks, but during his short sojourn here has made many friends who extend congratulations and welcome his bride to Owosso.

The wedding was the culmination of a pretty romance. Miss Roberts was employed in Zanesville as artist at the American Encaustic Tile Works, one of the largest potteries in the country. Mr. Hardway had been employed on the Zanesville Signal, and while in Fairmont, W. Va., sent a post card to the lady with whom he had boarded in Zanesville. Miss Roberts was rooming with the lady in question at that time, and the latter by the exercise of some ingenuity arranged a correspondence between the young man and the young lady who had never met. The wedding was the happy result. Evening Argus, Owosso, Mich.

"POP" NIGHT

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall Will Prove Interesting and Invitation is Extended to All.

A stellar attraction has been secured for the first "Pop" tomorrow night in Messrs Ramsey & Kincaid, who do a tumbling act that is said to be one of the finest ever. The fact that they are not much more than boys and work in one of the factories does not hinder their doing a truly fine stunt.

The Irish Lilt, to be given by Williams & Irish, is new to this section and is one of the prettiest things imaginable. There is an interest attached to these ancient National "dances" that are really picturesque gymnastics and not to be confused with the modern round dance that every one feels. The Scottish sword dance is one illustration.

It is likely that the Men's Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. will be crowded early to hear Mayor Brennan give his address. Mayor Brennan has been elected twice in Xenia to the office as mayor. While tickets have been put at the usual places and can be had on application no man will be kept out for the want of one. The Y. M. C. A. extends a cordial invitation to hear Mayor Brennan to all men who want to come.

WIVES AND MOTHERS

Save the Loved Ones From Drink Evil by Using Orin—Cure Effected or Money Refunded—Can Be Given Secretly.

If your husband or son has fallen a victim to the drink habit, stop pleading, scolding and crying. Use Orin, which is recommended by thousands of leading druggists throughout the country because they know the good it has accomplished.

This successful remedy can be given secretly if desired, using Orin No. 1, or the patient can take it of his own free will, using Orin No. 2. Either form destroys the desire for strong drink and builds up the bodily health, making the user strong and well, a man in every sense of the word. Write for free pamphlet on cure of alcoholism to the Orin Co., Washington, D. C. Sent in plain sealed envelope.

The regular price of Orin is $1 a box. There is no risk in buying Orin as there is a guarantee in every box which entitles you to a refund of your money if Orin fails to effect a cure. Orin is for sale by Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square.

Under the revised law governing the employment of women and children in Italy night work is forbidden for all females and for males of less than 15 years.

Rational Beautifying!

One of the most hopeful signs of the times is the death of that absurd prejudice against beautifying.

The lady of today does not sneak into a beauty-shop, but walks frankly in where she may get anything to remedy complexion ills or make herself more beautiful.

If this were wicked, mother-nature would not have set us the example of being so beautiful herself.

There is a great deal of fear among ladies about cosmetics, which is not without foundation, for there are many harmful cosmetics on the market.

Mme. Qui Vive's Cosmetics are absolutely pure. We have her Complexion and Taleum Powder, Toilet Water, Perfumes, etc. Every lady is invited to call and try them.
